LHS Parents, Guardians, and Students;

LHS thanks our parents, students, and teachers for a successful and safe first semester of the 2020-2021 school year. Even with the ebb and flow of COVID-19 cases, contact tracing, and student quarantine, we had many achievements during the fall semester in our classrooms and in our extracurricular competitions. We thank our amazing parents and students for this success. We also thank and recognize our enthusiastic and determined faculty and staff. As you read this letter, we are nearly four weeks into our second academic semester, and your students should be well settled into their new classes, whether in person or digital.

Parents, I encourage you to stay up to date on your student's grades and progress in their classes. I also encourage you to stay in contact with their teachers for updated class information and tips on how you can help them be successful in classes. Finally, I urge our parents of seniors to continuously cheer your seniors toward May 26. It will be here very soon, and we want all of our seniors to be able to see their success on that day.

Sincerely,

Mike Robison
Principal

HOPE Scholarship Grade Point Average (GPA)

When determining the HOPE average, HOPE considers grades from all core curriculum courses attempted: Math, English, Science, Social Studies, and Foreign Language. Academic electives are also included (Journalism, Mythology, Psychology, etc.) when factoring the HOPE grade point average.

To determine HOPE eligibility, only grade point averages—not numerical averages—will be considered. Numerical grades on transcripts will be converted on the following scale:

Non-AP Courses		AP Courses (based on final grade)
90-100	4.0	100-110	4.0
80-89	3.0	90-99	3.5
70-79	2.0	80-89	2.5
0-69	0	0-79	.5

**HOPE will subtract the 10 points added to AP classes and dual enrollment courses to determine the GPA and add .5 points. For example, a student earns an 85 in an AP class. This number will then be recorded on the transcript as a 95. HOPE will subtract the 10 points and calculate using the GPA for a B (3.0) and add .5 points. Thus, the GPA used to determine HOPE would be a 3.5

To view your student's HOPE GPA, please visit <https://gafutures.org> and click on MY HOPE GPA. (You will need your child's login information to access their information.)

Hope & Zell Miller Scholarship Eligibility

Students must have a 3.0 HOPE GPA to be eligible for the HOPE Scholarship (please see above). Students must have a 3.7 HOPE GPA and an SAT score of a 1200 (combined math and reading on one SAT administration) or a 26 composite ACT score to be eligible. For more information go to <https://gafutures.org>.

Dual Enrollment

The State of Georgia has adopted new Dual Enrollment eligibility and participation guidelines. Students who are planning to register for Dual Enrollment classes should see their counselors to check their graduation requirements and to learn more about those classes. Students should complete their registration and funding applications early, so they can get spots in the classes they want. **Seniors taking classes at Toccoa Falls should make sure they are registered for Session A for any classes that are required for graduation.

DIGITAL LEARNING STRATEGIES

Teachers and students were thrown into the world of digital learning last spring, and many were temporarily lost in how to navigate that new world. Now, almost one year later, some students have not returned to the physical classroom, and some teachers have become instructors to both the in-person students and those online. Many students have been quarantined at some point during the time they have been back at school and must become digital learners for the duration of their quarantine. Digital learning has its challenges, and there are a few strategies that could help your child be more successful in this new learning environment.

Time management is a huge, if not the most important, component that students must tackle in the digital world. Encourage your child to set a daily schedule to attend class during the appropriate class time and stay dedicated to working only on that course's materials during that class period, just as they would in person. The saying, "Don't put off until tomorrow what you can do today" is so true here; remind your child not to get behind in any class. Completing work in a timely manner will help your child not feel stressed throughout the semester, whether in the full-time digital setting or in a quarantine setting.

Organize work and workspace. Just as they would if attending class in person, encourage your child to keep a notebook for class notes and work, and have a specific location where they "attend class" each day. Encourage your child to print out note pages when possible, take notes by hand (students will learn more this way), and review notes daily. Organizing classes as they would in person will help your child be less stressed when finding notes for that upcoming assessment.

Take breaks from screen time. Screen fatigue is a real issue, and students should give themselves a few minutes after each class to walk away from the screen. Since classes are on block scheduling and are roughly 1.5 hours, recommend your child stop working on class materials at the 1-hour 45-minute mark, so they have a 15-minute break between classes. Taking a few minutes to use the restroom, get some water and a snack, and walk around will help clear their mind from screen time before the next class begins.

Communicate early and often with teachers. In a classroom, teachers can read student expressions and body language when they seem to be lost on a topic. Even if a teacher sees a student on Zoom, reading those expressions becomes more difficult in the digital world. Encourage your child to email

STUDENT OF THE SEMESTER

Student of the Semester is a special opportunity to recognize those students who have excelled in the classroom. Two times during the school year, teachers are asked to identify one student from their classes who stands out above the others for any number of reasons. Some teachers will choose a student who has made great academic strides during the semester. Others may choose a student who has been particularly helpful, gregarious, intellectually engaging, or perhaps, the one who went out of his or her way to make every day a special day at Loganville High School. In recognition of their efforts, students also receive a special certificate.

Each of the students below was recognized as Student of the Semester for the first semester:

teachers and/or ask questions in the Zoom calls just as they would in class. The chat box makes asking questions during the lesson easy since this won't interrupt the teacher's instruction by asking the question out loud, and when using the chat box, students should be specific with their questions. Some teachers prefer that students open their mic and ask questions aloud, while others prefer the use of the chat box. If you are not sure what your child's teacher prefers, ask him/her. Either way, students should ASK QUESTIONS EARLY AND OFTEN if they find themselves not understanding the topic being discussed.

Utilize resources that your child's teachers have suggested. Teachers have been given many resources to use with digital learners, and most of them have mentioned those resources in their syllabus. Khan Academy and Edmentum are great resources available to students if they need additional instructional videos for a class, and your child's teacher can recommend others.

While the world of digital learning is new to many of us, this seems to be a learning concept that will not be going away anytime soon. Remember that teachers and staff at LHS are here to help, and this experience can help your child become more responsible in the long run. Encourage your child to use these strategies throughout the semester for a less stressful experience overall.
